

The 10th Annual
Ignatian Family
Teach-In for Justice

The Heart, Mind and Soul of Solidarity
November 16-18, 2007 Columbus, GA

The Ignatian Family Teach-in for Justice is sponsored by the Ignatian Solidarity Network (ISN)

The mission of the ISN is to actively facilitate communication and collaboration between Jesuit-affiliated organizations and individuals throughout the U.S. to advance the service of faith and the promotion of justice. The network serves as a means to connect, strengthen, and broaden communication and action among these already existing groups in order to better understand what it means to live and act upon “a faith that does justice.”

Today, in the changing face of the Catholic Church, Jesuit and all Catholic institutions have the opportunity to take a closer look at the mission and identity of what it truly means to be women and men for others. The Ignatian Solidarity Network serves as a catalyst for this discussion and development, in order to further redefine what solidarity with the crucified peoples of this world truly looks like. In the 32nd General Congregation, Father Pedro Arrupe, SJ enthusiastically expressed, “the way to faith and the way to justice are inseparable ways. It is up this undivided road, this steep road, that the pilgrim Church must travel and toil. Faith and justice are undivided in the Gospel which teaches that faith makes its power felt through love. They cannot therefore be divided in our purpose, our action, our life.”
